

Child Abuse Prevention and Intervention: Course Outline

About this Course

In this online course, you will review key information and strategies, and participate in practical activities to help you feel more confident and knowledgeable about child abuse prevention and intervention.

For each topic, you will have a chance to practice various tasks to help you with your roles and responsibilities in the workplace when dealing with a child abuse concern. You will also have an opportunity to practice finding the information you need to determine the best actions to take.

The activities and examples in this course are real-life and are meant to help you take the information you have learned in your previous course and to apply it in the workplace.

Course Objectives

- After completing this course, you will be able to:
- Identify possible indicators of child abuse
- Understand how culture might affect child abuse prevention and intervention
- Gain confidence in understanding the law and how to apply this basic knowledge to real-life situations in your program
- Take action and overcome concerns you might have when you report suspicions of abuse

Course Topics

- What is Child Abuse?
- Identifying the warning signs
- The Newcomer Family
- Cultural considerations and parenting in Canada
- It's the Law!
- Highlights of legislation
- Taking Action
- Your role and responsibilities as a care giver
- On-the-Job Resources
- Quick reference documents to help you at work

Length of Course

- 1 hour 15 minutes
- You are encouraged to learn at your own pace; the program will re-start where you left off

What you will need

- Computer with speakers and internet access (optional: headphones)

